Illinois and Local History at the Dixon Public Library

Welcome to The William D. Barge and Frank E. Stevens Illinois and Local History Collection

The Library Board of Trustees has designated the Illinois and Local History Collection as the William D. Barge and Frank E. Stevens Illinois and Local History Collection in memory of two early benefactors of the Collection. William D. Barge, died 1921, was a Chicago lawyer, attorney for the Chicago Burlington and Quincy Railroad, who was also an Illinois historian, having written pamphlets concerning the origin of all the Illinois counties, and a history of Early Lee County. Frank E. Stevens was a lawyer, banker, newspaper editor and writer based in Illinois. Stevens was born and educated in Dixon, Illinois. He studied law in Sycamore, Illinois, and was admitted to the bar in 1877. After spending time in South Dakota and Chicago 1907, Stevens returned to Sycamore where he published the Dixon Weekly Citizen and later the Sycamore Tribune. He retired in 1928 and was elected mayor of Sycamore in 1931. Governor Horner appointed Stevens to the War Records Division of the office of the Adjutant General. Stevens was a historian who authored several historical works including The Black Hawk War and a History of Lee County. The collection still contains many items donated by Mr. Barge's brother Charles, and by Mr. Stevens' daughter Grace Stevens Hicks.

The Collection is a repository of primary and secondary source material that furthers the understanding of the civic, social, religious, cultural, political, and economic life of Dixon, Lee County, and Illinois. The Collection gathers, organizes, catalogs, and makes accessible to the public documents and publications that reflect activities, events, places, organizations, institutions, and services of the community of Dixon. We are very proud of our Illinois and Local History Collection, which covers Dixon, Lee County, and Illinois. It's not limited to history though, with books on subjects as diverse as sports, wildlife, politics, and travel in the collection. Over the last six years we have gathered over 4,700 items, including 1,900 distinct titles. More than 760 of these are available to be checked out, and the rest can be consulted at the library. The collection also includes over 550 reels of microfilm covering the Dixon Telegraph, a few other Lee County newspapers, census returns, and city directories.

We are building online collections of digitized local history resources at the Illinois Digital Archive. Our Dixon College online collection contains nearly 40 items pertaining to the history of the college can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/dpldixoncollege>. Our Dixon History online collection of over 125 photographs and documents is located at <https://tinyurl.com/dpldigitaldixon>. We also have a collection of nearly 30 issues of the magazine Dixon Living which is published by Shaw Media. These magazines can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/dpldixonliving>. Almost 200 items have been uploaded to these collections so far.

If you have any local history materials you would like to donate to the library, I would be very happy to see if they would fit into the collection.

What follows is a complete list of the items that we have, along with notes on how they may be used.

Antony Deter, Director

A note on using this guide

Items are listed by call number. Those items with call numbers starting with LH (Local History) are available to be checked out. These are available on the east side of the 1900 building. Those beginning with LHR (Local History Reference) can be consulted in the library but may not be checked out. Many of these are available for consultation on shelves next to the LH collection.

Items marked in the Notes column as “Adult desk”, including yearbooks, city directories, telephone books, plat books, pamphlets, and manuscripts can be consulted at the adult circulation desk on request. Items marked “Vault” may also be requested but it will take a few minutes to retrieve them for you. Items marked “Digital” are included in one of our online collections.

Dixonian Yearbooks are not individually listed in this guide. The library has copies of all yearbooks from 1914-2021, except that we are missing the one dated 1916 for which we only have a photocopy. One of each yearbook is kept at the adult desk.
