Dear Mayor Candidate:

I am writing in an effort to provide essential information for you in filing candidate petitions in the City of Dixon. The City of Dixon is nonpartisan and a Council-Manager Form of Municipal Government.

The filing dates are Monday, November 21 through Friday, November 25, 2022 between the hours of 8:00am and 4:30pm. And Monday, November 28, 2022 between 8:00am and 5:00pm. (Dixon City Hall will be closed on Thursday, November 24th and Friday, November 25th for the holiday)

A Consolidated Primary Election will not be necessary if uncontested, not more than four (4) candidates file for the position of Mayor. If uncontested, the candidate names will be placed on the ballot for the Consolidated Election held on Tuesday, April 4, 2023.

3) A receipt showing that you filed a STATEMENT OF ECONOMIC INTEREST with the Lee County Clerk’s office for this position.
4) Loyalty Oath (optional)

Petitions should be completed, signed and notarized, and bound as required, prior to filing with the City Clerk/Local Election Official at City Hall. Persons filing as candidates should verify accuracy of general information provided herein by referring to the “2023 Candidate’s Guide” (reviewing a copy in the City Clerk’s Office, or it is available to download at https://www.elections.il.gov under “Running for Office” section, then under Documents the “2023 Candidate’s Guide” or by seeking legal counsel, or contacting the Office of the State Board of Elections, Springfield (217)782-4141 or Chicago (312)814-6440, prior to the date of filing. Signature requirements may also be verified with the State Board of Elections.

All petitions filed by persons within the first hour on the first day of filing to the office of the City Clerk/Local Election Official or petitions filed by US mail and received in the office of the City Clerk/Local Election Official on the first day of filing, shall be deemed simultaneously filed (to be considered first). Petitions received in the last hour on the last day of filing shall be deemed simultaneously filed (to be considered last). In the event of simultaneous filing, a lottery drawing will be conducted to determine the order of placement on the ballot. Time, date, place, and method of lottery will be set by the City Clerk and persons involved will be notified.

I am also including as a courtesy, “A Candidate’s Guide to Municipal Government”. This document was compiled by the Illinois Municipal League in collaboration with the Municipal Clerks of Illinois. ARTICLE 29B FAIR CAMPAIGN PRACTICES ACT

10 ILCS 5/29B-5.  Purpose.  The Legislature hereby declares that the purpose of this Article is to encourage every candidate for public office in this State to subscribe to the Code of Fair Campaign Practices.  It is the intent of the Legislature that every candidate for public office in this State who subscribes to the Code of Fair Campaign Practices will follow the basic principles of decency, honesty and fair play in order to encourage healthy competition and open discussion of issues and candidate qualifications and discourage practices that cloud issues or unfairly attack opponent.  (Source: P.A. 86-873.)

10 ILCS 5/29B-10.  Code of Fair Campaign Practices.  At the time a political committee, as defined in Article 9, files its statement of organization, the State Board of Elections, in the case of a state political committee or a political committee acting as both a state political committee and a local political committee, or the county clerk, in the case of a local political committee, shall give the political committee a blank form of the Code of Fair Campaign Practices and a copy of the provisions of this Article.  The State Board of Elections or county clerk shall inform each political committee that subscription to the Code is voluntary.  The text of the code shall read:
CODE OF FAIR CAMPAIGN PRACTICES

There are basic principles of decency, honesty, and fair play that every candidate for public office in the State of Illinois has a moral obligation to observe and uphold, in order that, after vigorously contested but fairly conducted campaigns, our citizens may exercise their constitutional right to a free and untrammeled choice and the will of the people may be fully and clearly expressed on the issues.

THEREFORE:

(1) I will conduct my campaign openly and publicly, and limit attacks on my opponent to legitimate challenges to his record.

(2) I will not use or permit the use of character defamation, whispering campaigns, libel, slander, or scurrilous attacks on any candidate or his personal or family life.

(3) I will not use or permit any appeal to negative prejudice based on race, sex, sexual orientation, religion or national origin.

(4) I will not use campaign material of any sort that misrepresents, distorts, or otherwise falsifies the facts, nor will I use malicious or unfounded accusations that aim at creating or exploiting doubts, without justification, as to the personal integrity or patriotism of my opposition.

(5) I will not undertake or condone any dishonest or unethical practice that tends to corrupt or undermine our American system of free elections or that hampers or prevents the full and free expression of the will of the voters.

(6) I will defend and uphold the right of every qualified American voter to full and equal participation in the electoral process.

(7) I will immediately and publicly repudiate methods and tactics that may come from others that I have pledged not to use or condone. I shall take firm action against any subordinate who violates any provision of this Code or the laws governing elections.

I, the undersigned, candidate for election to public office in the State of Illinois or chairman of a political committee in support of or opposition to a question of public policy, hereby voluntarily endorse, subscribe to, and solemnly pledge myself to conduct my campaign in accordance with the above principles and practices.

Since 1913, the Illinois Municipal League (IML) has been the statewide organization representing all 1,295 municipalities in Illinois, including yours. Running for elected office is a serious undertaking and requires preparation and effort. This guide is intended to serve as a primer on local government for those seeking elected office. The following information is on the structure of municipal government and a summary of the functions and duties of local elected officials.

FORMS OF MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

Except for 14 municipalities operating under pre-1870 charters as incorporated towns, all other municipalities in Illinois are either cities or villages. Many municipalities operate under either an aldermanic-city or a trustee-village form of government. These standard forms of government are subject to simple variations, such as the number of members of a legislative body, the terms of office and minority representation. There are also three more complicated variations of municipal government. These variations are called strong mayor form, managerial form and commission form. Each form has its own rules for the selection and type of officers, their powers and responsibilities, and the general operations of government. An overview of these forms of government is provided below.

ALDERMANIC-CITY FORM
The aldermanic-city form of municipal government is made up of two alderpersons per ward elected for four-year terms. Terms are staggered so that half of the alderpersons are elected every two years. The population of the city determines the number of alderpersons. Under the aldermanic form of government, the mayor is the chief executive officer. The mayor, city clerk and city treasurer are elected to four-year terms.

TRUSTEE-VILLAGE FORM
Under the trustee-village form, the legislative body consists of six trustees, generally elected from the village at large. Villages with a population of less than 5,000 may, by referendum, reduce the number of trustees from six to four. Villages with a population of more than 25,000 may have each trustee elected by district instead of from the village at large. The village president, village clerk and village treasurer are elected at large, but the village treasurer is appointed. The term of the village president, trustees and clerk is four years, unless reduced to two years by referendum.
Roles and Responsibilities of Elected Officials

A municipality functions as an organization made up of individuals with various roles and responsibilities. Below is an overview of those positions, as well as their functions.

THE MAYOR OR PRESIDENT
The mayor is the chief executive officer of the city. The president is the corresponding chief executive officer of a village or town. The president, however, may alternatively be referred to as the mayor. The mayor or the president performs all of the duties prescribed by law or municipal ordinance, and is required to see that the laws and ordinances are faithfully executed. The president has the same general supervisory powers and duties as the mayor, except where the Illinois Municipal Code specifically provides otherwise.

The mayor’s or president’s term is four years unless the municipality has adopted a two-year term of office. The mayor or president is required to annually give the council information concerning the affairs of the city.

Under most forms of municipal government, the mayor or president is a member of the corporate authorities, but generally only presides over the council’s or board’s deliberations. The mayor or president casts a vote in the event of a tie or if a measure has received a favorable vote of one-half of the council, and there is no tie. The mayor or president may also vote when a vote greater than a majority of the corporate authorities is required.

As chief executive officer of the municipality responsible for seeing that all laws and ordinances are enforced, the mayor or president is, in effect, the administrative superior of all officers and employees, other than the alderpersons and trustees, subject to the provisions for commission and managerial forms of government. The Illinois Liquor Control Act makes the mayor, president, or their designee, the Local Liquor Control Commissioner, with power to enforce the appropriate provisions of the Act and local ordinances relating to the subject.

THE CITY COUNCIL, BOARD OF TRUSTEES AND CORPORATE AUTHORITIES
The legislative body of the municipality is the council or board. It is the default repository of all municipal powers that have not been specifically delegated to some other office or board of the municipality. The language of the Illinois Municipal Code is such that in most cases the powers granted under it are to be exercised by the “corporate authorities.”

In cities, the corporate authorities are the mayor and the alderpersons. In villages and towns, the corporate authorities are the president and board of trustees, who exercise the same powers and perform the same duties as a city council. In municipalities under the commission form, the corporate authorities consist of the mayor and four commissioners. Under the managerial form, the mayor and council or president and board of trustees constitute the corporate authorities. It is important to note that sometimes statutory provisions require that actions be taken by a specific majority of the “alderpersons or trustees,” rather than the “corporate authorities.” In those cases, the mayor or president does not vote on the matter.

THE MANAGER
Under the managerial form of government, the manager is the chief administrative officer of the municipality and is, therefore, responsible for the efficient administration of all departments. Managers are vested by statute with the power and duty to enforce the laws and ordinances within the municipality. The manager is appointed and serves at the discretion of the council or board with no set term of office.
provided for in Articles 3 and 4 of the Illinois Municipal Code, except those covered by civil service.

STRONG MAYOR FORM

This strong mayor form of government has an elected mayor, clerk and treasurer and from eight to 20 alderpersons elected from wards depending upon the size of the community. The elected officials serve four-year terms. In the strong mayor form of government, the mayor is given the power, without the necessity of the advice and consent of the city council, to appoint and remove their administrative assistants, budget and finance director, heads of all departments, all other officers of the municipality, and members of commissions, boards and agencies.

THE TREASURER

The treasurer or appointed finance officer is the custodian of all funds belonging to the municipality. As such, they keep records that show a separate account for each fund or appropriation. The treasurer issues receipts for money received and files copies thereof with the clerk, as well as issues money only on warrants or bonds duly signed by the mayor or president and clerk. The treasurer keeps separate accounts for taxes levied for a specific purpose, bond funds and special assessment funds.

The treasurer is personally liable for all funds deposited with them, regardless of whether they are negligent in handling them.

Under oath, the treasurer must make a monthly report, or issue reports more often if required by the corporate authorities, showing the state of the treasury and its remaining balance as of the date of the report.

The treasurer is prohibited from making personal use of any municipal funds in their possession.
What is Home Rule?

The Illinois Constitution of 1970 introduced home rule into Illinois law. In short, a community with home rule status can adopt any policy unless specifically prohibited from doing so by state law or constitutional limitations. By comparison, a non-home rule community can only adopt policies for which express authority is provided by state law. This means that non-home rule governments are “creatures of the state” and dependent on obtaining grants of authority from the General Assembly and the Governor, while home rule governments are more autonomous and able to exercise governing authority independent of the General Assembly and Governor in most cases.

Home rule status is automatically conferred once a community achieves more than 25,000 residents, unless revoked by voter referendum. Communities with 25,000 or fewer residents are permitted to become home rule following the passage of a referendum. Illinois presently has 219 home rule communities.

A Note About Ethics

One area to become immediately familiar with is the local ordinance adopting the restrictions required by the State Officials and Employees Ethics Act. In 2003, the State of Illinois enacted legislation that regulates political activity by public officials and employees. The Act also requires all local governments to adopt an ordinance that includes restrictions addressing prohibited political activities and the gift ban.

The Act has been amended to require local governmental entities to adopt, by ordinance or resolution, a policy prohibiting sexual harassment, and to provide a mechanism in that policy for the reporting and independent review of allegations of sexual harassment of elected officials by other elected officials. Although many governmental entities already had sexual harassment policies in place, the law sets forth minimum standards for sexual harassment policies.

Ethics reform legislation enacted in 2021, included in Public Act 102-0664, amended the Lobbyist Registration Act to expand the definition of “lobbying” to include any communication with an official, including the soliciting of others to communicate, for the ultimate purpose of influencing any executive, legislative or administrative action at the municipal level. The amendments also prohibit municipal officials from compensated lobbying on behalf of any lobbyist or lobbying entity who is registered to lobby their municipality. The Act also provides that no unit of local government with a population of 500,000 or less may regulate lobbying in a manner inconsistent with the Act.

STATEMENT OF ECONOMIC INTERESTS FORM

Effective January 1, 2022, Public Act 102-0664 changed the Statement of Economic Interests form that must be filed by elected officials, some appointed officials and employees, as well as candidates for elected office. IML developed a fact sheet to assist municipal officials and candidates in the completion of the Statement of Economic Interests form, available at iml.org/factsheets.
Two important statutes govern public meetings and public documents that should be guiding principles of your local government service. These laws are the Open Meetings Act (5 ILCS 120/) and Freedom of Information Act (5 ILCS 140/).

OPEN MEETINGS ACT

The Open Meetings Act (OMA) is the guiding state statute on the conduct of meetings concerning an open format, with the public being able to witness the events and discussion of public officials when conducting the public's business. OMA requires openness. The public has a right to be informed as to the conduct of their business and the right to an opportunity to address public officials under the rules established and recorded by the public body. OMA provides exceptions for closed sessions of the public body, but those exceptions are to be strictly construed. Meeting in closed session is not mandatory, but the statutory rules within OMA governing closed sessions must be followed. OMA covers public notices, meeting agendas, meeting schedules, recording meetings, minutes, procedures for closing a meeting and attendance by means other than physical presence. OMA has been amended to authorize remote meetings in the case of declared emergencies and disasters. The provisions of OMA also include enforcement procedures and penalties to assure compliance.

The Illinois Attorney General’s Office, through the Public Access Counselor (PAC), has the authority to review allegations of violations of OMA. Any individual can also bring a civil action in circuit court alleging non-compliance.

Each municipality must submit a list of OMA designees to the PAC. The list must name designated employees, officers or members, and those listed must complete OMA training within 30 days of their designation and annually thereafter. All newly elected or appointed members of a public body are required to complete OMA training within 90 days of taking office. An elected or appointed member of a public body subject to OMA who has successfully completed the training and filed a copy of the certificate of completion with the public body is not required to subsequently complete the training, so long as they are not an OMA designee. Training is available through the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and OMA Training Portal on the Illinois Attorney General’s website at illinoisattorneygeneral.gov.

IML is an authorized provider of the required OMA training and offers online training through the IML Education Resources webpage at iml.org/education. Certificates are provided to those who complete the training. IML also offers the opportunity for OMA training in person at IML workshops and the IML Annual Conference.

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT

FOIA pertains to the public’s right of access to public records in the possession of public bodies in whatever form they exist. The provisions of FOIA are the guiding principles for allowing citizens and interested parties to have knowledge of government records, balanced by the fact that certain limited records may be exempt from disclosure. The FOIA statute begins with a broad policy statement and definitions. It then provides guidelines for the copying or inspection of records, dissemination of information about the public body, the maintenance of a list of types or categories of records and the ability to charge reasonable copying fees. The law also includes a list of public records and information exempt from disclosure to the public. It should be noted that if a record can be determined to be exempt because of some information that can be deleted, then the redacted record must be tendered to the requester.

FOIA requires each public body to designate one or more official(s) or employee(s) to act as its Freedom of Information Act officer(s). Those individuals must complete training within 30 days of being appointed and annually thereafter. FOIA training is available through the Illinois Attorney General’s website at illinoisattorneygeneral.gov.

The PAC can review the denial of documents under a FOIA request when asked by the requester. An individual may also file suit in circuit court to enforce FOIA compliance.

Both OMA and FOIA should be embraced with a spirit of public service and desire to keep the public informed and educated about the public’s business.

IML offers FOIA training through the IML Education Resources webpage at iml.org/education and in person at IML workshops and the IML Annual Conference. IML has also provided a model ordinance on FOIA available at iml.org/ordinances, along with a fact sheet on fulfilling requests for public records available at iml.org/factsheets.

Every December, IML publishes the Calendar for Municipal Officials in the Review magazine. Throughout the year, each edition of the Review includes monthly reminders for tasks that must be completed. Those entries include the provisions for the annual budget (due prior to the beginning of the fiscal year) or appropriation ordinance (due by the end of the first quarter of the fiscal year), the annual property tax levy ordinance (which must be filed with the county clerk by the last Tuesday in December) and the annual audit (due to be filed with the Illinois office of the Comptroller within 180 days of the end of the fiscal year). Additional reminders include annual appointments and reappointments for boards and commissions, salaries for elected officials (which must be set at least 180 days before taking office or a new term) and numerous other acts that must be completed throughout the year. The Calendar for Municipal Officials is available at iml.org/calendar.

IML Annual Conference & Education Opportunities

IML offers a number of convenient and affordable opportunities to meet the professional development needs of municipal officials and staff.

The IML Annual Conference is the municipal event of the year. We offer more than 2,000 attendees unparalleled access to education and professional development, as well as the opportunity to network with fellow elected and appointed officials.

Each year, the event offers dozens of diverse sessions that provide innovative ideas, proven best practices and practical information over the course of three days. Conference topics are carefully selected to ensure the most relevant, timely solutions to problems facing Illinois communities. The speakers who present them are among the best in their field.

IML provides online Article 3 (Police) and Article 4 (Fire) Pension Trustee Certification, free of charge, to meet the state-mandated 16-hour initial training and eight-hour annual training requirements for local pension board trustees. This offers trustees the opportunity to meet their certification requirements when it is most convenient for them, and at a considerable savings to the pension funds. This training is available at iml.org/pensiontrustees.

IML offers Open Meetings Act training and Sexual Harassment Prevention training materials that meet State of Illinois mandates.

In addition to the IML Annual Conference, education opportunities and workshops are offered throughout the year in person and online. Newly Elected Officials Workshops are conducted in odd-numbered years and Not So Newly Elected Officials Workshops being offered in even-numbered years. Municipal Attorneys Seminars are usually held in the spring and at the IML Annual Conference in the fall. Learn more about IML’s education opportunities online at iml.org/education.
Media Engagement

An election cycle inevitably generates media attention. Dealing with the media need not be adversarial, nor is it even a “necessary evil,” as some candidates would argue. Quite to the contrary, the press can be a valuable resource to your community and to you personally. Failure to build a relationship with the press and to keep them informed can create unending problems.

The business of government is to be conducted in the open. Dealing with the press is a legitimate part of that process. Following are several suggestions to consider when working with the media.

FIRST, BE HONEST
Always give reporters and the media honest answers to their questions. If you cannot be honest, then do not talk to the press on a particular issue, but never give false information.

SECOND, RETURN TELEPHONE CALLS OR MESSAGES
Reporters are doing their jobs. Part of your role is keeping constituents informed, and your constituents read the newspaper, online news, social media, blogs and listen to local radio shows. Returning messages from the media is imperative.

THIRD, TAKE THE TIME TO EXPLAIN YOUR POSITION
While you may be familiar with an issue that has gone on for a long time in your municipality, the reporter (and, for that matter, your constituents) may not have any idea what the matter is about or why it has been so difficult to solve. You may need to take time to explain the historical background of what has occurred and why you are taking a particular position.

FOURTH, IF YOUR STORY IS NOT GETTING ACROSS, CONSIDER WRITING AN OP-ED PIECE
If an issue is important enough or you believe the facts are not being reported fully, consider writing your own op-ed piece. A letter to the editor is usually short and subject to editing by the publication; however, an op-ed piece carries more significance and may be longer. This could be an opportunity to tell your story the way you want to tell it.

FIFTH, MEET WITH THE EDITORIAL BOARD
For all of the reasons listed above, it can be helpful to meet with a newspaper’s local editorial board. This may be particularly helpful when the editorial board may be expected to weigh in on complicated or controversial issues.

SIXTH, DEVELOP A THICK SKIN
Because you do not write the articles, news stories will rarely appear as one-sided cheering sections for you or your position. Keep your perspective on this. Reasonable people can disagree, and not everyone will invest in a particular issue with as much importance as you might.

FINALLY, BE RESPECTFUL AND THOUGHTFUL IN YOUR PUBLIC AND PRIVATE BEHAVIOR
We live in an era of cell phone cameras and social media; everyone should act accordingly. Off-hand comments and remarks that are insensitive to others — whether in real life or online — are unacceptable. Such comments will hurt your credibility and will distract from your legitimate goals and objectives. Remember that as long as you are a public figure, your private actions and casual remarks will shape the public’s perception of you, and possibly your community.

Legal Services

IML attorneys are active in providing assistance to locally-retained municipal attorneys throughout the state. With the input and assistance of the Home Rule Attorneys Committee, IML provides model and sample ordinances and model policies on a wide array of municipal issues.

In addition, IML attorneys may file amicus briefs in support of municipalities in the appellate courts or Illinois Supreme Court on cases with a statewide impact on communities. IML also provides continuing legal education to municipal attorneys through Municipal Attorneys Seminars, usually held each spring and at IML’s Annual Conference each fall. The seminars explore the latest developments in municipal law, led by subject matter experts and leading municipal attorneys.

Self-Evaluation Services

Maybe you struggled through a contentious campaign to be elected or your new role is fraught with tension. Maybe the board is too acrimonious to be effective. As a benefit of membership, IML staff can assist with convening a closed session of the governing body to develop solutions to issues that may be impacting your municipality.

Regardless of the issues at hand, a self-evaluation session can serve as an opportunity to focus on future success. The Open Meetings Act affords municipal governments the opportunity to meet in closed session for the subjects of “self-evaluation, practices and procedures or professional ethics, when meeting with a representative of a statewide association of which the public body is a member.” (5 ILCS 120/2(c)(16)).

Contact IML at (217) 525-1220 to discuss whether these services might benefit your community.
